The New Jersey State Council on the Arts will convene a public business meeting on Tuesday, December 10th at 11:00am at the Department of State Art Gallery in Trenton.

The meeting agenda includes reports from State Arts Council committees that recently met, as well as a presentation by People & Stories, an organization dedicated to using literature and storytelling to help people of all ages build critical thinking skills, move beyond stereotypes, and communicate across racial and cultural barriers.

On view now in the Gallery is By the Artist's Hand, an exhibition co-created by the NJ State Museum and the State Arts Council which includes paintings, drawings and sculptures from the permanent collections of both agencies.

About the image:

Morning, Noon and Night was created by artist Diana Moore and installed in front of 225 West State Street in 2006 as part of the Arts Inclusion Program. The three carved granite vessels weigh more than two tons and are supported by three-legged bronze stands atop bases of black granite.

It receives funding in direct appropriations from the State of New Jersey through a dedicated Hotel/Motel Occupancy fee and grants from the National Endowment for the Arts.
